Introduction

In the early days of its revelation, many of the companions memorized the Koran. They memorize with the main motivation of maintaining the purity and permanence of the Al-Quran. Because if the Koran is not memorized, the Koran will automatically be lost. As time goes by, more and more Muslims are memorizing the Al-Quran (Aisyah, S., 2020). Of course the main goal is not to preserve the preservation of the Al-Quran, because there is a lot of advanced technology to store the Al-Quran(Huda, 2018). The interaction between the Muslim community and its holy book, the Koran, in the trajectory of Islamic history, has always experienced dynamic development. For Muslims, the Qur’an is not only a holy book which is a guide to life (dustû>r), but also as a cure for diseases (syifâ’), light (nû>r) and at the same time good news (busyrâ>). Therefore, they try to interact with the Koran by expressing it... verbally, in writing and in action, whether in the form of thoughts, emotional or spiritual experiences. Every Muslim believes that when he interacts with the Koran, his life will gain happiness in this world and the hereafter. To get guidance on the Koran, Muslims try to be able to read it, understand its contents and practice it, even though just reading it is considered an act of worship. (Atabik, 2014). The holy book Al-Qur’an is the main source of Islamic teachings and life guidelines for every Muslim. The Qur’an not only contains instructions about human relationships with God, but also regulates human relationships with each other and with the natural surroundings. It is the Muslim Ummah who is obliged to protect and preserve the Islamic religion. (Husna, 2021).

The Al-Quran has brought the spirit of literacy since the beginning of Islam, from this spirit the Muslim community was recorded in world history as a people who created a superior civilization which became the center of science. (Jayana, 2021). The Al-Quran literacy movement is an effort to strengthen the literacy skills of Muslim students in reading and understanding the Al-Quran (RA Hidayat, 2018). The literacy movement in Indonesia has been running since 2017. In general, this movement emerged because the generation’s interest in reading was very low, and to restore reading as a need for knowledge, the literacy movement became the main mainstay, such as Al-Quran literacy. Literacy is an effort or activity that is participatory in nature involving the school community, among others (students, school principals, teachers, education staff, school supervisors, parents/guardians of students), academics, mass media, the community and stakeholders under the coordination of the Directorate General of Primary and Secondary Education, Ministry of Education and Culture. The social literacy movement is a social movement with the collaborative support of various elements. Efforts taken to make this happen are in the form of reading habits. This habituation is usually done with 15 minutes of reading (AG Hidayat et al., 2021).

It can be said that Al-Quran literacy is a skill that can be learned and developed. In general, Al-Quran literacy is an individual’s ability to “read”, understand the messages conveyed by the Al-Quran, and understand its objectives, history and teachings, including moral teachings. In terms of literacy in general, literacy cannot be separated from 3 things, namely: Literacy culture; Literacy culture creates effectiveness and efficiency in the use of written symbols. Society can accumulate a more permanent body of knowledge and pass on this knowledge to the next generation (Solehudin, 2018).

Reading and writing are basic tools that God has taught us to communicate, as He said in the Qur’an al-Rahman 55: [4].

God bless you

It means; teach him to speak well

The next element of literacy is teaching, as indicated in the fifth verse of Surah Al-Alaq, namely;

\text{عَلَّمَ الۡاِناسَانَ مَا لَمْ يَعالَما}

Meaning: He teaches humans what they do not know, Al-Alaq: 5

The education desired by the first verses revealed is education that is rabbanny in nature. Meanwhile, the person who carries it out is also called rabbanny. Which the Qur’an characterizes as teaching both what is written (the Qur’an) and what is not written (the universe) (Mansyur, 2021).

Pondok Pesantren is the oldest Islamic educational institution in Indonesia (Robbaniyah & Lina, 2022b). Seeing the role of Islamic boarding schools in da’wah activities among the community, in the sense of carrying out an activity to raise religious awareness or implementing religious teachings consistently as followers of the Islamic religion (Robbaniyah & Lina, 2022a).

The Bin Baz campus Islamic boarding school is a student Islamic boarding school under the Majlis At-turots Al Islamy Foundation. The Islamic Center Bin Baz Student Boarding School consists of the Yogyakarta College of Islamic Tarbiyah Science (STITMA) consisting of S1 Islamic Religious Education Study Program (PAI) and Bachelor of Arabic Language Study Program (PBA) and the Yogyakarta College of Madani Health Sciences (STIkes) consisting of S1 Nursing Study Program, D3 Midwifery Study Program, D3 Pharmacy, and Nurses. Mahasantri STITMA and STIKES are universities with a boarding system. The term used is Islamic boarding school-based campus. Bin Baz Campus Islamic Boarding School as the new campus Islamic boarding school in 2021-2022 has been able to produce 8 (eight) hafidzoh 30 juz (Sarwadi, Q. Robbaniyah, 2022). And in June 2023 there will be 30 hafidzoh who have been able to complete memorizing 30 juz. So researchers are interested in exploring more deeply regarding Strengthening Al-Quran Literacy in Mahasantri (case study at the Bin Baz campus Islamic boarding school).

Method

This research method is descriptive qualitative research, namely narrating, illustrating and describing the findings obtained in the field related to the research theme. (Robbaniyah et al., 2023). Interviews were conducted with the management of the bin Baz campus Islamic boarding school, the cardinator administrator of the bin Baz campus Islamic boarding school, and the ustadzah of the Bin Baz campus Islamic boarding school regarding strengthening Al-Quran literacy in the Islamic boarding school. Observations were carried out directly in the field at the Bin Baz campus Islamic boarding school regarding activities to strengthen Al-Quran literacy at the boarding school. Documentation is carried out from both online and offline data related to the research theme. Results and Discussion

1. Implementation of Mahasantri Al-Quran Literacy at the Bin Baz Campus Islamic Boarding School

Viewed from a linguistic perspective, literacy means the ability to read and the ability to write (Anisa Firda Khumaira, 2022). Reading is essentially a complex activity that involves many things. Reading is not just about reciting writing, but also involves visual, thinking, psycholinguistic and metacognitive activities. As a visual process, reading is the process of translating written symbols (letters) into spoken words. As a thinking process, reading includes activities of word recognition, literal understanding, interpretation, critical reading and creative understanding. Meanwhile, writing is bringing down or depicting graphic symbols that describe a language that is understood by someone so that other people can read the graphic symbols which contain the message the writer carries. (Maskur, 2019)

3. Supporting and Inhibiting Factors for Strengthening Mahasantri Literacy at the Bin Baz Campus Islamic Boarding School

Supporting and inhibiting factors for strengthening Al-Quran literacy among students at the Bin Baz Campus Islamic Boarding School can have a significant impact. The following are several factors that influence strengthening Al-Quran literacy among students in Islamic boarding schools:
a. Factor Supporters:

1) Availability of Resources: The availability of sufficient Al-Quran, both in print and digital form, is an important factor in strengthening Al-Quran literacy. All Islamic boarding school residents have proper Al-Quran and all Islamic boarding school students have cellphones/cell phones that can be directly accessed when reading the Al-Quran and memorizing and studying the Al-Quran.

2) Competent Teacher Development: The Bin Baz Campus Islamic Boarding School has teachers or coaches who are competent and experienced in understanding and teaching the Al-Quran from the quality of reading (tahsin), memorizing the Al-Quran (30 juz) which can support strengthening Al-Quran literacy. Teachers who are able to provide good guidance, interpretation and understanding of the Al-Quran can increase students’ motivation and understanding of this holy text.

3) Supportive Learning Environment: Bin Baz Campus Islamic Boarding School creates a learning environment that is conducive to strengthening Al-Quran literacy. For example, awards for students who have succeeded in memorizing or understanding certain parts of the Koran.

b. Factor Inhibitors:

1) Arabic Language Challenges: The Koran is written in Arabic, and for students who are not native Arabic speakers, the challenges in understanding and studying the Koran can be an obstacle. This problem can be overcome through a good Arabic language education program and the right learning approach.

2) Lack of Motivation: Lack of motivation or interest from students in studying the Koran can be an obstacle. This could be caused by a lack of understanding of the importance of Al-Quran literacy, feelings of being overwhelmed in dealing with complex sacred texts, or the presence of other distractions in the Islamic boarding school environment.

3) Time Limitations: Mahasantri has a busy schedule with various activities, including religious activities, lectures, and other activities. Time limitations can be an obstacle in allocating sufficient time to study the Koran in depth.

4) Lack of an Interactive Learning Approach: A learning approach that is less interactive and focuses on mechanical memorization can reduce student interest and motivation in studying the Koran. The use of learning methods that are creative, interactive, and pay attention to contextual understanding of the Al-Quran can increase Al-Quran literacy.
